Transformational Growth Strategy

Capital Allocation

- First priority for capital allocation is growing the company through acquisitions
- $2.5B in acquired revenues in 2021 and $940M in 2022
- Between the 3Q21 and 4Q22 earnings release dates GPI repurchased ~4.1 million common shares, or 22.4% of the Company's outstanding common shares, at an average price of $178.35, for a total of $727 million
- Business model generates strong adjusted free cash flow to fund growth--$803M in 2022*

Battery Electric Vehicle (“BEV”) Parts and Service Outlook

Our dealerships are equipped to service all powertrain types

According to Edmunds.com as of January 2023, the 5-year repair and maintenance cost of ownership of a 2022 e-tron EV is $8,584 versus $8,440 for a 2022 Q5 ICE -- an immaterial difference.

A 4 year & 50,000 mile extended warranty for a Tesla Model S costs $5,100 according to Tesla’s web site as of January 2023. This is more than Group 1 charges on average for a Lexus LS extended warranty with the same year/mileage terms. This is because BEV’s still require repairs and maintenance, even though some low-margin maintenance services such as oil changes are no longer required.

Group 1's analysis shows that we generate more revenue per repair order for vehicles with alternative powertrains.

As vehicle complexity continues to increase, it becomes more difficult for do-it-yourself (“DIY”) and independent service shops to compete against franchised dealers who have the capital, special tools, training, and software access to make more complicated repairs.

Group 1 is investing in the tooling & technician training for all brands

We are adding EV lifts, battery replace & repair tools, and charging stations where needed

We are equipping collision centers in metro areas to repair all types of EVs, including electric delivery vans

Multiple collision centers have been recognized for EV repair for several years

Appendix & Non-GAAP Reconciliations

Non-GAAP Financial Measures, Same Store Data, and Other Data

In addition to evaluating the financial condition and results of our operations in accordance with U.S. GAAP, from time to time our management evaluates and analyzes results and any impact on the Company of strategic decisions and actions relating to, among other things, cost reduction, growth, profitability improvement initiatives, and other events outside of normal, or "core," business and operations, by considering alternative financial measures not prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. In our evaluation of results from time to time, we exclude items that do not arise directly from core operations, such as non-cash asset impairment charges, out-of-period adjustments, legal matters, gains and losses on dealership franchise or real estate transactions, and catastrophic events, such as hailstorms, hurricanes, and snow storms. Because these non-core charges and gains materially affect the Company's financial condition or results in the specific period in which they are recognized, management also evaluates, and makes resource allocation and performance evaluation decisions based on, the related non-GAAP measures excluding such items. This includes evaluating measures such as adjusted selling, general and administrative expenses, adjusted net income, adjusted diluted earnings per share, and constant currency. These adjusted measures are not measures of financial performance under U.S. GAAP, but are instead considered non-GAAP financial performance measures. Non-GAAP measures do not have definitions under U.S. GAAP and may be defined differently by, and not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by, other companies. As a result, any non-GAAP financial measures considered and evaluated by management are reviewed in conjunction with a review of the most directly comparable measures calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP. We caution investors not to place undue reliance on such non-GAAP measures, but also to consider them with the most directly comparable U.S. GAAP measures.

In addition to using such non-GAAP measures to evaluate results in a specific period, management believes that such measures may provide more complete and consistent comparisons of operational performance on a period-over-period historical basis and a better indication of expected future trends. Our management also uses these adjusted measures in conjunction with U.S. GAAP financial measures to assess our business, including communication with our Board of Directors, investors, and industry analysts concerning financial performance. We disclose these non-GAAP measures, and the related reconciliations, because we believe investors use these metrics in evaluating longer-term period-over-period performance, and to allow investors to better understand and evaluate the information used by management to assess operating performance. The exclusion of certain expenses in the calculation of non-GAAP financial measures should not be construed as an inference that these costs are unusual or infrequent. We anticipate excluding these expenses in the future presentation of our non-GAAP financial measures.

In addition, we evaluate our results of operations on both an as reported and a constant currency basis. The constant currency presentation, which is a non-GAAP measure, excludes the impact of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. We believe providing constant currency information provides valuable supplemental information regarding our underlying business and results of operations, consistent with how we evaluate our performance. We calculate constant currency percentages by converting our current period reported results for entities reporting in currencies other than U.S. dollars using comparative period exchange rates rather than the actual exchange rates in effect during the respective periods. The constant currency performance measures should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, the measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The Same Store amounts presented include the results of dealerships for the identical months in each period presented in comparison, commencing with the first full month in which the dealership was owned by us and, in the case of dispositions, ending with the last full month it was owned by us. Same Store results also include the activities of our corporate headquarters.

Certain amounts in the financial statements may not compute due to rounding. All computations have been calculated using unrounded amounts for all periods presented.
